Believe That Charlton Was Murdered Also

United Press Telegram.
COMO, Italy, June 14.—The police despair of getting any clue to the Charlton murder from the Russian, Isipoloff, following an all night sweat-box session. Six detectives participated in the investigation but to no avail. The suspect answered all questions without confusion and told a fluently told story of his acquaintance with the Charltons. The police have decided to hold him, however.

United States Ambassador Lohman and Consul Gough of Milan will take charge of the case and being driven to search Lake Como. Both are convinced that Charlton was murdered.

It is believed that Charlton, or his wife, or both, were insane. Wild orgies in the Charlton villa at midnight and dawn dances in nocturnal attire support the insanity theory.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 14.—Mrs. Porter Charlton, the Lake Como victim, attempted suicide by jumping into the river here in the summer of 1908. The attempt followed her detention by a man named Bettis, with whom she lived as his wife at a local hotel.

The trunk in which the body was found in Lake Como bore the inscription, "W. C. Bettis."

Mrs. Terence did not apply for the position of sewing teacher, a place that she filled last year with great credit. Miss Maude Loucks was elected a special teacher. All grade teachers were advanced $1 per month except those receiving $65 per month. The Scottdale bank bid 24 per cent, on daily balances of the school fund and acting as treasurer while the Broadway National bank bid 34 per cent, on the same conditions or 28 per cent, better and were chosen as the custodians of the funds of the board. The agreement with the Scottdale bank, which was made last year, was renewed. The board of trustees was ordered to stand unanimously and Mr. Reister's donation is provided for the next three years.

Business College Commencement.
The seventh annual commencement of the Peterson Business College was held last night when a class of 65 was graduated with appropriate exercises. Miss Christine Miller, formerly of Scottdale, and now of Pittsburgh, and one of the most celebrated and perfect contralto singers in America, opened the exercises with "A Happy Song." She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Florence Muller, and sang several songs during the evening. Rev. W. J. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist Church, delivered the invocation and then President Peterson introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Aaron S. Watkins, President of Ashbury College, Kentucky, who spoke on the subject of "Poets and Patriots."

Fayette Farmers Plan Institutes During the Coming Summer Months.

Three coming institutes have been planned by the farmers of Fayette county. At a meeting of the committee on arrangements composed of T. H. Smith of Dunbar, and William Sweetwater of Uniontown, held yesterday afternoon in the office of the County Commissioners Uniontown, Farmington, Flatwoods, and Morris Cross Roads were chosen as the places for holding the institutes.

Mr. Smith was recently named President of the committee by A. L. Martin of Harrisburg, director of institutes. Every agricultural organization in the county is entitled to a representative in the committee.

The institutes at each of the places named will be in session for two days, and the three meetings will likely be held close together. No time has yet been set. Every effort possible is being made by the committee to have these gatherings of great benefit to the farmers and to three places were chosen with the idea of covering the county as well as possible. An institute has never been held at Farmington and an urgent application was received from that place.

One Big Picnic Only This Year That of Maltas

As far as known only one big picnic will leave Connelville this season. That is, only one that expects to fill three special trains. The annual merchants' picnic is hardly a possibility and if it is held, some nearby park will be the place.

This leaves the Knights of Malta picnic to Cascade Park next Wednesday the one best bet of the picnic season. In this picnic will rival some of the big outings the merchants have held in former years. The merchants are working hard to beat the record of three years ago when over 3,000 people went along. They believe those who attended that first outing to Cascade will go along this year.

Nothing has been left undone to make the picnic a big success. There will be delegations from all civic organizations and the friends of the Malta will be just as welcome as any member of the order. The cordial invitation issued to all lets down the bars and excludes no one who wants to have a pleasant outing at Westmore Pennsylvania's finest pleasure park.

The low rate of fare and fast running time guaranteed assures a large crowd. The round trip for adults is only $1.25 while the children can go for 50 cents.

This picnic is one of the most picturesque in this section. For scenery the Lake Erie's line from here to Pittsburgh is the best of all. Beyond Pittsburgh the four tracks main line follows the beautiful Ohio to Cleveland and then leaves it to make a direct run into New Castle.

Arrangements have been received that delegations from Uniontown and other towns in this vicinity will attend.

SIGN OF RELIEF FROM CONGRESS.

Conferees Report Railroad
Bill Back to Both Houses.

GIVES ENTIRE SATISFACTION

Many of the Insurgent Provisions
Still Remain in Measure and House
Gets More Than Usual From Senate in Conference Committee.

Washington, June 15.—The conferees on the administration rate bill reached an agreement and the measure, practically in the form that it will appear on the statute books, is now before the senate and house.

Both factions of the Republican party seem to be well satisfied with the conference report and it is expected that the bill will now be disposed of and sent to the White House for the president's signature by the end of the week.

The bill emerges out of the conference committee with many of the insurgent provisions still in it. In fact, about the only radical propositions dropped by the conferees was the house's physical valuation section and the provisions regulating the issuing of railroad stocks and bonds.

The bill as it reappears contains a long and short haul amendment, a feature that all of the insurgents and a few regulars have been demanding for months; a provision authorizing the interstate commerce commission to suspend the operation of rate increases for ten months—pending an investigation into their reasonableness; an amendment shifting the burden of proof in rate cases from the shipper to the railroad itself, and several other propositions the radicals forced into the measure.

The house conferees emerged from the conference room with considerably more to their credit than representatives of that body have usually been accustomed to get in dealing with the senate leaders. Chairman Mann of the house committee on interstate commerce entered the conference strongly intrenched.

The house had come within six votes of accepting the senate bill as a substitute for its own, and a realization on the part of the senate leaders that the house might still take matters into their own hands and accept the bill as it passed the senate probably made them more conciliatory than they otherwise might have been. The senate bill contained provisions that the leaders had accepted merely for the purpose of shutting off the debate and with the intention of throwing them overboard in conference.

The agreement on the conference report brings practically to an end a fight that has been waged for almost four months and there were signs of relief on both sides of the capital by insurgents, regulars and Democrats when the report was received and seemed to be satisfactory to nearly all hands. The Democrats as a party will, of course, oppose it, but they probably will do nothing to delay its passage.

WANTS THE LAND BACK

District of Columbia Seeks 7,300 Acres of Virginia Territory.
Washington, June 15.—The commissioners of the District of Columbia want congress to force the state of Virginia to give back to the district 7,300 of the 19,600 acres which comprised the Virginia side of the district and which was retroceded to Virginia in 1845.

In a communication sent to congress they urge the enactment of legislation to carry out their recommendation in this regard. The Virginia representatives in congress will fight the proposition to the last ditch.

CAMEO KIRBY

By Booth Tarkington
AND
Harry Leon Wilson
Adapted From the Play of the Same Name by
W. B. M. Ferguson

Copyright, 1909, by the Amies Magazine Company

For reply Mr. Kirby, usually the pattern of courtesy, offered a monosyllabic affirmative and turned from the window.

But young Randall had no time to utter his quick resentment, for now, at last, his father had come ashore, borne on the shoulders of two stout abouts, while the captain and officers stood with bowed heads and thankful left the unwelcome task of explaining the tragedy to the amiable and willing Colonel Moreau.

"THE SCOUNDREL, HAN ALREADY SAID FOR IT WITH HIS LIFE."

"My boy," said the latter, now looking a fatherly hand on young Randall's head, "although I am a stranger to you, sub, I have ventured to assume temporary control of this terrible affair, for I am a southern gentleman, as was Mr. Randall, and I feel bound to you all by the ties of sympathy and country. I was a witness, sub, to the events which preceded and prompted this outrage, and although I am aware it is but poor satisfaction, still it is something to know that the scoundrel who was instrumental in causing you father's death has already paid for it with his life. My name, sub, is Colonel Moreau, and if I can be of any further service to you all in this dark hour of tribulation, I am at your command, sub. As you will observe, I beg of you to meet this calamity with the fortitude of a Christian gentleman, with which admirable and plain affection the good colonel furnished his hands, and helped himself to a generous pinch of snuff."

"I thank you, Colonel Moreau, for all you have done," said young Randall, looking on the intrepid thing at his feet. "You—you may you witness my father's death?"

"Not exactly, sub, for he shot himself in his bedroom. However hard to bear, I think you should know who and what prompted his death. The scoundrel, sub, was the notorious Cameo Kirby, of whom, perhaps, you have heard."

Young Randall nodded duly, and Moreau, entering into the spirit of the tale, continued: "I formed an acquaintance, sub, with your father when he came aboard at New Orleans. He confided to every one that he had sold his sugar crop for ten thousand and had the cash with him, and he was in mighty high spirits because he was on his way back home to see his children. His confidence was delicate, as I can I must state that he was not quite himself, and by that, sub, I mean that he had been drinking a little too freely. I don't have to tell you, sub, that there are certain characters on all the big boats who keep a pretty sharp lookout for gentlemen with money who are in the condition you father was, sub, was in tonight, and I expect there was more than one river gambler on board who would have liked to get his hands on Mr. Randall. But the one who got him was the aldest and cleverest of the lot, the Cameo Kirby whom I have mentioned. This rascal, sub, inveigled your father into a private stateroom, piled him with molasses and won from him not only all his money and personal effects—even including a miniature of your dead mother, sub—but also a deed to his entire plantation and all his slaves, every thing which he owned. I was too late to save Mr. Randall, but I knew Kirby by repute, and I was so acutely outraged by the whole affair that I denounced him for the whole affair that I was the quicker he drew on me, but I was thereupon and shot him down like a dog. They carried him ashore, sub, at the last, and I, and the river is cleaner for his death."

"You have taken vengeance out of my hands," said young Randall, suddenly. "The coward and villain! For a stranger, sub, the attitude which you have displayed toward my family has been most considerate, and I will never forget it. The hospitality of a house is mourning!"

but I couldn't think of it. This is a time when you all must wish to be alone, and business calls me north. I merely stopped ashore to see your interests as your gentleman would have done. There goes the bell, and I must run for it. I'll venture to pay my respects to your family when I return south, and pray command me in any occasion you may have. Your servant, sub." And with a magnificent bow the colonel turned and raced for the gangplank, boarding the Shotwell with a leap that shamed his fifty odd years.

For two weeks this comely, rascal, Kirby hovering between life and death, but at the end he emerged triumphant as, over the gaming table when the odds were as heavily against him, he had emerged from many a hotly contested contest.

To those who judged Kirby's character from the evil reports which gossip had spread concerning him and to others who, in their righteous ignorance, considered all gamblers legitimate children of the devil his remarkable recovery would have been accepted merely as another proof that the evil one favors his own, that the mills of the gods grind slowly, that justice is blind and that a scoundrel is difficult to kill, together with many similar ancient and reputable maxims which ignorance and self righteousness love to distribute on every fitting occasion.

Among possessors of the last mentioned attribute Eugene Kirby was regarded as a black sheep who, rebekely, avoiding the whitewash brush, was deemed beyond redemption, for what man worthy of the name would have acted as had the last of the Kirbys? What if he had been but fifteen when his father died a bankrupt? What if he had been left an orphan, a pauper, with no immediate relative to care how he acted? What! the heritage of an ancient and honorable name, the knowledge that some of the oldest and best blood in all the south flowed in his veins, enough to keep him straight? Most assuredly it was. There was actually no excuse for his dealing in with wild and dissolute companions, becoming a common river gambler and rendering notorious and obnoxious a name which had hitherto been the synonym for honor and integrity.

Kirby had been kept in ignorance of Mr. Randall's suicide, but when at length he became conversant with the facts, he turned back to the events of that memorable night, informed him, and the invalid, on his part, recounted the occurrences preceding Colonel Moreau's precipitation of the scoundrel.

"The news of Mr. Randall's death, in a great shock," he added, greatly moved, "He was my father's friend, Bunce, and when the devil played havoc with our affairs did all in his power to be of assistance. But for my great pride I would have accepted his offer of guardianship, and under his supervision, I hope, would have been a credit to the name instead of the disgrace I am."

"Now, you quit these here postmortems," remonstrated Bunce, good naturedly, but firmly. "You don't call me a disgrace, do you? And ain't I your old side partner? Bosh, if you play the game straight I guess there's lots of worse ways of making a living than gambling. The sawbones said a lot of rest was coming your way, so just turn over on the other side and forget it."

There Won't Be a Silk Coat in Our Stock After Friday's Selling.

We're Naming Prices That May Even Close Them Out Before the Day is Over.

We aren't fond of half-way measures, don't believe in cutting prices a little and then a little more and so on. Any price cut that we name reaches rock-bottom right away. When we plan clearance we want to effect it in a hurry and get through with it, what we get doesn't concern us nearly as much as how soon we can get it.

SO WE'VE MARKED EVERY ONE OF THIS SEASON'S COATS DOWN TO EXACTLY HALF PRICE.

No need to say much about their desirability, women who bought them considered their regular prices far lower than their real values. So though they're marked at half of their regular selling prices they're really selling for less than half of their actual values.

TO STIMULATE THE SALE WE WILL OFFER UP TO $18.75 SILK COATS AT $1.90

Think of it, you get almost 19 times what you pay for. We tell you frankly that they're 1909 and 1908 models but they're styles that are as popular today as they were then.

Honored by Women

When a woman speaks of her silent secret suffering she trusts you. Millions have bestowed this mark of confidence on Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. Everywhere there are women who bear witness to the wonderful working, curing-power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—which saves the suffering sex from pain, and successfully grapples with women's weaknesses and stubborn ills.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG
IT MAKES SICK WOMEN WELL.

No woman's appeal was ever misdirected or her confidence misplaced when she wrote for advice, to the Woman's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets induce mild natural bowel movement once a day.

are recognized as the critical clothes buyers; they give more thought to style in clothes than older men; and they ought to. When a man gets established in business and in society he can afford to be a little less particular, though many such men are still very exacting.

But young men are apt to give so much thought to style that they neglect quality; if the clothes look smart and lively, young fellows are quite likely to forget to insist on having them good also.

There's no reason why you shouldn't have the smartest style, with the best and highest quality.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

make our young men's clothes; the styles are very lively; but the fabrics are always all-wool, the tailoring is the best possible.

Have style and quality both; just as easy to have both, as to have one. Suits $20 to $25.

Sale is Rich in Good Second Hand Pianos

Bargains in Used and Second-Hand Pianos From $25 to $250

Many Old Standard Makes Like the Chickering, Knabe and Hardman Offer Exceptional Opportunities to Economical Buyers.

It is in the low prices at which used and second hand pianos are being sold that this preparatory sale has its great attraction. The prices have been cut down to the very last dollar they will stand to let us come out even. In fact, the prices are so low that we cannot very much if some of them will not show a small loss.

To get good and ready—It means—that during this month (the month of June) we should sell every used and second hand piano on our floor. Every old style and all of the most expensive styles have also been reduced in price to make them more during the month, rather than to carry these through the summer.

In other words we are "cleaning up" during the month, rather than to let some big plans we have maturing for the last half of the year.

And it is this that we say, that the greatest attraction of this sale is the used and second hand end of it.

The attraction is the prices.

As much as the word is—BARGAINS—is the only word to be used.

There is not a used or second hand piano in the lot that represents a dollar of profit. The prices have been cut down to the very last dollar they will stand to let us come out even. In fact, the prices are so low that we cannot very much if some of them will not show a small loss.

The whole idea that is before us is that these pianos must go, and they must go this month, and every instrument has been marked with this thought in mind. The person who wants to save money in buying a piano stands in his own light if he does not buy one of these at once.
